Understanding BH Cosmetics Brush Numbering System

BH Cosmetics employs a numeric system to categorize their brushes, making it easier for users to identify the brush type and its purpose. Each brush number corresponds to a specific style, size, and function, which streamlines the selection process for consumers. The numbering generally starts at 1 and increases, covering a wide range of brush types for different makeup applications—from face to eyes and specialty uses.

This system allows BH Cosmetics to offer a diverse array of brushes without confusion, ensuring makeup artists and everyday users can quickly find the right tool. For example, lower numbers often represent larger, face-focused brushes, while higher numbers are typically reserved for smaller, more detailed eye brushes or specialty tools. Understanding this system is the first step in mastering BH Cosmetics brushes and utilizing them effectively in makeup routines.

Face Brushes and Their Numbers

Face brushes in the BH Cosmetics collection are designed for applying foundation, blush, bronzer, powder, and contour products. These brushes vary in size and shape, each tailored to specific facial areas and makeup textures. The numbering for face brushes usually ranges from single digits to the teens, with each number representing a particular brush style and function.

Foundation Brushes

Foundation brushes are typically larger and denser, designed to provide even coverage and smooth blending. In the BH Cosmetics numbering system, brushes like #1 and #2 are common foundation brushes. They are often flat or slightly rounded with synthetic bristles suitable for liquid and cream foundations.

Powder and Blush Brushes

Powder and blush brushes tend to be fluffier and softer to provide a light application of powder products. Brushes numbered around #5 through #10 often fall into this category. These brushes help to set makeup with translucent powder or add color to the cheeks with blush or bronzer.

Contour and Highlight Brushes

Contouring and highlighting require precision and control, making brush shape and size critical. BH Cosmetics brushes numbered from #11 to #15 often include angled or tapered brushes that are perfect for sculpting the face with contour powders and applying highlighter on cheekbones and brow bones.

- #1: Flat Foundation Brush
- #5: Fluffy Powder Brush
- #7: Blush Brush
- #12: Angled Contour Brush
- #14: Tapered Highlight Brush

Eye Brushes and Their Numbers

Eye makeup requires a variety of brushes for detailed application and blending, and BH Cosmetics offers a comprehensive range of eye brushes identified by higher numbers, generally from #15 upwards. These brushes include those for eyeshadow application, blending, smudging, and precise liner work.

Eyeshadow Application Brushes

Brushes numbered between #16 and #25 are commonly used for applying eyeshadow to the lids. These brushes come in various shapes such as flat, rounded, and shader styles, allowing for versatile color placement and build-up.

Blending Brushes

Blending brushes are essential for seamless transitions between eyeshadow colors. BH Cosmetics numbers #26 through #30 often represent soft, fluffy brushes designed for blending and diffusing eyeshadow edges to avoid harsh lines.

Detail and Liner Brushes

For detailed work like eyeliner and precise shading, BH Cosmetics offers smaller brushes generally numbered from #31 and higher. These include angled liners, smudge brushes, and pencil brushes that allow for sharp definition and controlled application.

- #16: Flat Shader Brush
- #22: Rounded Eyeshadow Brush
- #27: Blending Brush
- #31: Angled Eyeliner Brush
- #35: Pencil Brush

Specialty Brushes and Their Numbers

BH Cosmetics also offers specialty brushes that serve unique purposes beyond standard face and eye makeup applications. These brushes have specific designs and functions, such as lip brushes, fan brushes, and spoolies, and are assigned higher numbers in the collection.

Lip Brushes

Lip brushes are small and precise, designed to apply lip color cleanly and evenly. BH Cosmetics lip brushes are typically numbered around #40 to #45, featuring fine, tapered bristles for controlled application.

Fan Brushes

Fan brushes are used for applying highlighter with a light touch or sweeping away excess powder. Numbers like #46 and #47 are often designated for BH Cosmetics fan brushes, which have a wide, flat shape ideal for delicate highlighting.

Spoolies and Brow Brushes

For grooming eyebrows and separating lashes, BH Cosmetics provides spoolies and angled brow brushes, usually numbered in the high 40s or 50s. These brushes help achieve polished, defined brows and well-separated lashes.

- #41: Lip Brush
- #46: Fan Brush
- #50: Spoolie Brush
- #52: Angled Brow Brush

Tips for Choosing the Right BH Cosmetics Brushes

Selecting the appropriate BH Cosmetics brush numbers depends on the makeup look desired and the products used. Knowing the brush number and its function can simplify the selection process and improve application results.

When choosing brushes, consider the following:

- Product type: Liquid, cream, or powder products require different brush textures and densities.
- Brush shape: Flat brushes are better for packing color, while fluffy brushes excel at blending.

- Brush size: Larger brushes cover more area for face makeup; smaller brushes allow precision for eyes and lips.
- Brush material: Synthetic bristles work well with liquid and cream products, while natural bristles are often preferred for powder.
- Intended use: Match the brush number and description to the specific makeup step (e.g., contouring, blending, lining).

Proper Care and Maintenance of BH Cosmetics Brushes

Maintaining BH Cosmetics brushes ensures longevity, hygiene, and optimal performance. Regular cleaning prevents product buildup, bacteria growth, and bristle damage.

Basic maintenance tips include:

- Washing brushes weekly with gentle brush cleanser or mild soap.
- Using lukewarm water and avoiding the ferrule (metal part) to prevent loosening of bristles.
- Reshaping brushes after washing and drying them flat or bristles down to maintain shape.
- Storing brushes properly in a clean, dry place to avoid dust and damage.
- Replacing brushes that have frayed, shed excessively, or lost their shape.

Following these practices helps preserve the quality of BH Cosmetics brushes and ensures consistent makeup application results.
