His ability to perform at the highest level in the biggest tournaments has cemented his status as one of the greatest. These records showcase his dominance across the Masters, U.S. Open, The Open Championship, and PGA Championship.

Number of Major Wins

Woods has won a total of 15 major championships, second only to Jack Nicklaus who holds 18. His major victories span from 1997 to 2019, reflecting his sustained excellence across decades. Tiger's majors include:

- 5 Masters Tournament titles
- 3 U.S. Open titles
- 3 Open Championship titles
- 4 PGA Championship titles

This diversity in major wins highlights his versatility on different courses and conditions.

Youngest and Fastest Achievements

One of the craziest tiger woods statistics is that he became the youngest player to win the Masters at age 21 in 1997. He also was the youngest to complete the career Grand Slam at age 24. Additionally, Woods holds the record for the most consecutive cuts made in majors at 39, demonstrating unparalleled consistency.

Dominance in Majors

Woods has a remarkable record when leading after 54 holes in majors, converting 14 out of 23 times into victories. This conversion rate is one of the highest in golf history, underscoring his ability to close out tournaments under pressure.

PGA Tour Achievements

On the PGA Tour, Tiger Woods' statistics reveal a career full of dominance and record-breaking performances. His achievements here include wins, scoring records, and participation milestones that few can match.

Total PGA Tour Wins

Woods has amassed 82 PGA Tour victories, tying him with Sam Snead for the most all-time. This milestone highlights his career longevity and competitiveness at the highest level.

Winning Streaks and Seasons

One of the craziest tiger woods statistics involves his winning streaks. In 2000 and 2001, Woods won seven consecutive PGA Tour events, a record unmatched in the modern era. He also set the record for the most wins in a single season with nine victories in 2000.

FedExCup and Other Tour Records

Woods won the FedExCup in its inaugural year (2007), further showcasing his ability to perform in the season-long points race. His career also includes numerous top-10 finishes and multiple Player of the Year awards.

Scoring and Performance Milestones

Scoring statistics demonstrate Tiger Woods' extraordinary skill and dominance on the golf course. His ability to consistently shoot low scores under pressure is reflected in several record-setting performances.

Lowest Round Scores
