Overview of Creekview Health and Rehab

Creekview Health and Rehab is a specialized healthcare facility focused on delivering high-quality rehabilitation and skilled nursing services. It serves patients who require post-acute care, rehabilitation after surgery, or long-term medical support. The center integrates advanced medical technologies with compassionate care practices, ensuring patients receive individualized treatment plans designed to meet their unique recovery goals. Located conveniently to serve the community, Creekview is recognized for its commitment to enhancing patient outcomes through evidence-based therapies and multidisciplinary collaboration.

Comprehensive Rehabilitation Services

One of the core strengths of Creekview Health and Rehab lies in its wide array of rehabilitation services. The facility offers tailored rehabilitation programs that address a variety of conditions, including orthopedic injuries, neurological disorders, cardiac rehabilitation, and pulmonary therapy. These programs are designed to restore mobility, strength, and independence in patients.

Physical Therapy

Physical therapy at Creekview focuses on improving patients' physical function through exercise, manual therapy, and advanced modalities. Licensed physical therapists work closely with patients to develop personalized plans that target pain relief, muscle strengthening, and mobility enhancement.

Occupational Therapy

Occupational therapy helps patients regain the ability to perform daily activities essential for independent living. Therapists assist with fine motor skills, coordination, and adaptive techniques tailored to each patient's lifestyle and recovery needs.

Speech and Language Therapy

For patients experiencing speech, swallowing, or cognitive difficulties, Creekview provides specialized speech and language therapy. This service supports communication improvement and safe swallowing practices, which are critical for overall health and well-being.

Specialized Rehabilitation Programs

Additional programs include neurological rehabilitation for stroke and brain injury patients, cardiac rehabilitation to support heart health post-surgery, and pulmonary therapy aimed at improving respiratory function.

Skilled Nursing and Medical Care

Creekview Health and Rehab offers comprehensive skilled nursing care to patients requiring medical supervision and assistance with complex health conditions. The nursing staff provides round-the-clock monitoring, medication management, wound care, and chronic disease management.

24/7 Nursing Support

Patients benefit from continuous nursing support, ensuring timely response to medical needs and emergencies. This level of care is essential for patients transitioning from hospital settings or those requiring ongoing medical attention.

Medication Management

The facility employs strict protocols for medication administration and monitoring to prevent errors and optimize therapeutic outcomes. Pharmacists and nurses work collaboratively to manage prescriptions carefully.

Wound Care and Pain Management

Specialized wound care services are provided to promote healing and prevent infection in patients with surgical wounds, ulcers, or pressure sores. Pain management strategies include both pharmacologic and non-pharmacologic approaches to enhance patient comfort.

Patient-Centered Care and Support

Creekview Health and Rehab prioritizes a patient-centered approach that respects individual preferences, needs, and values. The facility fosters a supportive environment where patients and their families are actively involved in care planning and decision-making.

Individualized Care Plans

Each patient receives a customized care plan developed after thorough assessments by the interdisciplinary team. Plans are regularly reviewed and adjusted to reflect progress and changing needs.

Family Involvement

Family members are encouraged to participate in therapy sessions and care discussions, promoting a collaborative healing process and providing emotional support to patients.

Emotional and Psychological Support

Recognizing the psychological impact of illness and rehabilitation, Creekview provides counseling services and social support to help patients cope with stress, anxiety, and depression during recovery.
