Overview of the IB 2024 Exam Schedule

The IB 2024 exam schedule is designed to accommodate a wide range of subjects and assessments across multiple time zones and educational institutions globally. The exams are typically conducted twice a year, with the main session in May and a secondary session in November for selected candidates. The May 2024 exams will cover all Diploma Programme (DP), Middle Years Programme (MYP), and Career-related Programme (CP) subjects. Each exam session is carefully structured to ensure fairness, consistency, and compliance with IB regulations. Students must familiarize themselves with their specific exam dates well in advance to avoid conflicts and ensure adequate preparation time.

Core Components and Their Exam Dates

The IB Diploma Programme includes three core components: Theory of Knowledge (TOK), the Extended Essay (EE), and Creativity, Activity, Service (CAS). These elements complement the subject exams and are integral to the overall assessment process.

Theory of Knowledge (TOK) Exam

The TOK exam is scheduled within the IB 2024 exam period, usually taking place towards the end of the written exams. It assesses students' critical thinking skills and their ability to reflect on knowledge questions. The exact date for the TOK exam in 2024 will be communicated by each IB school but generally falls in late May.

Extended Essay (EE) Submission

The Extended Essay is a research project completed prior to the exam session and must be submitted by a deadline set several months before the exams. For the 2024 session, the EE deadlines are typically in early March, allowing examiners sufficient time for evaluation.

Creativity, Activity, Service (CAS) Requirements

CAS activities are ongoing and must be completed before the exams begin. Although there is no formal exam for CAS, documentation and reflection on these experiences are required for successful completion of the Diploma Programme.

Subject Groupings and Timings

The IB curriculum is divided into six subject groups, each with specific exam dates and durations. The 2024 exam schedule organizes these subjects to minimize overlap and ensure students have appropriate breaks between exams.

Group 1: Studies in Language and Literature

Exams in Group 1 typically include Language A: Literature and Language A: Language and Literature courses. The exams involve written papers and oral assessments, scheduled within the first week of the exam period.

Group 2: Language Acquisition

Language acquisition subjects such as Language B and ab initio languages have their exams spread throughout the exam window. These assessments focus on reading, writing, listening, and speaking skills.

Group 3: Individuals and Societies

Subjects like History, Geography, Economics, and Psychology are examined through a combination of essay-based papers and document-based questions. These exams are generally held mid-session, providing students with balanced workloads.

Group 4: Sciences

Science subjects, including Biology, Chemistry, Physics, and Environmental Systems, have both written and practical components. The practical exams or internal assessments are completed before the exam session, while the written exams occur according to the published schedule.

Group 5: Mathematics

Mathematics exams are divided into Analysis and Approaches and Applications and Interpretation courses, each with different paper formats. The exams are scheduled to allow sufficient time for calculation and problem-solving.

Group 6: The Arts

Subjects such as Visual Arts, Music, and Theatre have portfolios or performance components completed before the exam period. Written exams or reflection papers are scheduled during the IB 2024 exam dates, typically towards the end of the session.

Typical Exam Day Timetable

The IB exam days generally follow a two-session format: a morning session starting around 9:00 AM and an afternoon session starting around 1:30 PM. Exam durations vary between 1 to 3 hours depending on the subject and paper type.

- Morning session: 9:00 AM - 12:00 PM (approximate)
- Afternoon session: 1:30 PM - 4:30 PM (approximate)
- Breaks between sessions for rest and preparation

Exam Day Guidelines and Preparation Tips

Proper preparation and adherence to exam day protocols are essential for success in the IB 2024 exam schedule. Students should arrive early, bring all required materials, and follow instructions carefully to avoid any disruptions.

What to Bring to the Exam

Students must bring authorized stationery, including pens, pencils, erasers, calculators (where permitted), and identification. Electronic devices, notes, and textbooks are strictly prohibited unless otherwise stated.

Exam Conduct and Rules

The IB organization enforces strict exam regulations to maintain academic integrity. Cheating, communication during exams, or possession of unauthorized materials can result in disqualification or cancellation of results.

Time Management Strategies

Time allocation during exams is critical. Students should practice previous exam papers under timed conditions to develop a pacing strategy that ensures completion of all questions.

Important Deadlines and Administrative Details

In addition to exam dates, the IB 2024 exam schedule includes important deadlines for registration, subject changes, and submission of coursework. Meeting these deadlines is essential to avoid penalties or exclusion from the exam session.

Registration Deadlines

Most schools have internal deadlines for registering students for the IB exams. These deadlines usually fall several months before the exam session and allow the IB to prepare and distribute exam materials.

Subject Changes and Withdrawals

Students wishing to change subjects or withdraw from exams must adhere to strict timelines. Changes after the official deadline may incur additional fees or be disallowed.

Results and Reassessment

IB results for the May 2024 exams are typically released in early July. Students may request remarking or review of their exams within a specified period following the results release, subject to fees and IB policies.
