Understanding Prepositional Phrases

Prepositional phrases are groups of words that start with a preposition and end with a noun or pronoun, known as the object of the preposition. These phrases function as adjectives or adverbs, providing information about time, place, direction, cause, manner, and other relationships within a sentence. An identifying prepositional phrases worksheet helps students pinpoint these phrases, recognize their components, and understand how they contribute to sentence meaning.

Definition and Structure

A prepositional phrase consists of two main parts: the preposition and the object of the preposition. The preposition acts as a connector between its object and another word in the sentence. Common prepositions include words such as "in," "on," "at," "between," "under," and "through." The object is usually a noun or pronoun that completes the phrase. For example, in the phrase "under the table," "under" is the preposition and "the table" is the object.

Function in Sentences

Prepositional phrases serve to modify other words, typically providing context related to location, time, or direction. They can function as adjectives, modifying nouns, or as adverbs, modifying verbs, adjectives, or other adverbs. For example, “The book on the shelf is new” uses a prepositional phrase as an adjective, while “She arrived after the meeting” uses it as an adverb.
