Multiple Mini Interviews (MMI)

Panel Interviews

In panel interviews, applicants face multiple interviewers simultaneously. This setting allows the admissions committee to observe how candidates interact in a group dynamic and respond to diverse questioning styles.

Virtual vs. In-Person Interviews

Due to ongoing changes in the educational landscape, many schools offer virtual interviews, while others have returned to in-person formats. Each mode has unique considerations for preparation, such as technology setup for virtual interviews and logistics for on-campus visits.
