Financial Management and Reporting

Comprehensive financial oversight is a hallmark of price realty management corporation's service suite. The company manages rent collection, expense tracking, budgeting, and detailed financial reporting. Clients receive transparent monthly and annual statements designed to provide clear insight into property performance and cash flow.

Pricing Structure and Cost Factors

Understanding the pricing model of price realty management corporation is essential for property owners evaluating management options. The corporation adopts a competitive and transparent fee structure tailored to the scope and scale of each property managed. Pricing is influenced by several factors that reflect the complexity and demands of the property.

Management Fees

The primary fee component is the monthly management fee, typically calculated as a percentage of the monthly rental income. This percentage varies depending on property type, location, and the range of services required. Price realty management corporation ensures that its fees align with industry standards while delivering exceptional value.

Leasing and Tenant Placement Fees

When securing new tenants, the corporation charges a leasing fee to cover marketing expenses, tenant screening, and lease execution. This fee is often a fixed amount or a percentage of the first month's rent. Price realty management corporation emphasizes efficient tenant placement to minimize vacancy periods and optimize rental income.

Additional Service Charges

Additional fees may apply for services outside the standard management agreement, such as major capital improvements, legal proceedings related to evictions, or specialized financial reporting. These charges are clearly outlined in client contracts to maintain transparency and avoid unexpected costs.

- Monthly management fee based on rental income percentage
- Tenant placement and leasing fees
- Maintenance coordination fees
- Extra charges for specialized services or legal actions
- Custom pricing for large or complex properties
