Getting Started with Tailoring in WoW TBC

To begin tailoring in World of Warcraft: The Burning Crusade, players must first visit a tailoring trainer to learn the profession. Tailoring is a primary crafting profession that allows players to create cloth armor, bags, and other useful items. This profession is especially beneficial for cloth-wearing classes such as mages, warlocks, and priests, but it also offers lucrative opportunities for other players interested in crafting and selling items. Trainers are located in most major cities, and starting tailoring requires basic materials like linen cloth and simple thread to craft your initial items. Understanding how to navigate the profession interface and manage your crafting materials is essential for efficient tailoring.

Choosing Your Tailoring Trainer

In TBC, tailoring trainers are available in key cities such as Stormwind, Orgrimmar, and Shattrath City. Selecting a trainer close to your leveling or farming zone can minimize downtime and improve efficiency. Trainers will provide new recipes as you gain skill levels, ensuring a steady progression through the tailoring ranks.

Basic Tailoring Mechanics

Tailoring relies on skill points that increase as you craft items. Each recipe requires a certain skill level, and crafting successful items grants skill-ups. Materials such as cloth and thread are consumed during crafting, so maintaining a steady supply is crucial. Players should also be aware of the chance to create rare or special items, which can be highly valuable.

Leveling Tailoring Efficiently

Leveling tailoring in WoW TBC efficiently requires a strategic approach to maximize skill gain while minimizing material costs. Unlike some professions, tailoring can be leveled largely through crafting specific items that provide the best skill-ups relative to their resource investment. Following an organized progression path helps players reach the maximum skill level of 375 as quickly as possible.

Recommended Crafting Progression

Crafting items in ascending order of required skill level ensures consistent skill gains:

- Linen Bandages and Bolts (skill 1-50)
- Wool Cloth Items (skill 51-100)
- Silk Cloth Items (skill 101-150)
- Mageweave Cloth Items (skill 151-200)
- Runecloth Items (skill 201-275)
- Netherweave Cloth Items (skill 276-375)

Crafting bolt items such as bolts of cloth is often recommended to reduce inventory clutter and material usage while leveling.

Using Recipes and Patterns Effectively

Obtaining the correct recipes is critical for efficient leveling. Many recipes are learned from trainers, while others are dropped by mobs or purchased from vendors. Prioritizing high-skill gain recipes will reduce wasted materials and speed up progression. Players should also keep an eye on recipes that yield bags or useful gear as these can be sold or used immediately.

Essential Materials and Where to Find Them

Tailoring in WoW TBC requires a variety of cloth and thread materials, which are fundamental to crafting all items. Understanding where to farm or purchase these materials is key to maintaining a steady crafting flow. Most cloth drops come from humanoid mobs throughout the game world, and certain special materials are unique to The Burning Crusade zones.

Primary Cloth Types

The main cloth types utilized in TBC tailoring include:

- Linen Cloth: Found in low-level zones, used for initial crafting.
- Wool Cloth: Dropped by mobs in mid-level areas.
- Silk Cloth: Obtained in higher-level zones, important for mid-tier crafting.
- Mageweave Cloth: Found in late-level classic zones.
- Runecloth: A staple in TBC, dropped by many humanoids and important for most tailoring crafts.
- Netherweave Cloth: Exclusive to TBC zones, drops from Outland humanoids and essential for high-level tailoring.

Special Materials and Components

Besides cloth, tailoring requires thread and occasionally rare reagents:

- Thread: Linen Thread, Silk Thread, and other types are crafted from cloth and necessary for most recipes.
- Primal Nether: Used in some high-level tailoring recipes like spellthreads.

- Arcane Dust and Other Enchanting Materials: Sometimes combined with tailoring crafts for special enhancements.

Important Tailoring Recipes and Patterns

Mastering the most impactful tailoring recipes is vital for both crafting powerful gear and generating profit. Tailoring in TBC offers a wide range of recipes, from basic bags to high-end epics and spellthreads that enhance equipment. Acquiring rare and faction-specific patterns can significantly improve crafting capabilities.

Key Tailoring Items to Craft

Several items stand out as essential or highly profitable:

- Bags: Large bags such as the Netherweave Bag and the Bag of Jewels are always in demand.
- Spellthreads: These augment gear with extra stats, useful for raiding and PvP.
- Armor Sets: Crafted tailored gear, including the notable Spellfire and Shadoweave sets.
- Specialty Items: Crafted items like the Mooncloth and Bolt of Netherweave are vital for other professions.

Obtaining Rare Patterns

Many prized tailoring patterns are obtained through reputation rewards, dungeon drops, or crafting quests. Examples include:

- Spellfire Robe: Requires a rare pattern and high tailoring skill.
- Netherweave Spellthread: Crafted with a reputation pattern from the Aldor or Stryers factions.
- Bag Patterns: Some bags require reputation or vendor-only recipes.

Tailoring Specializations and Spellthreads

In The Burning Crusade, tailoring players can specialize in creating spellthreads, which are powerful enhancements applied to gear. These spellthreads add critical stats such as spell power, mana regeneration, or resilience, making them highly sought after by raiders and PvP players.

Understanding Spellthreads

Spellthreads are crafted by tailors with the necessary skill and recipes. They require specific materials, including Netherweave Cloth and various enchanting components. Applying a spellthread to gear enhances its effectiveness, making tailoring specialization a valuable asset in endgame content.

Popular Spellthread Types

Common spellthreads include:

- Netherweave Spellthread: Adds spell power and intellect.
- Primal Mooncloth Spellthread: Grants increased spell critical strike chance.
- Runed Spellthread: Provides a boost to spell penetration.

Making Gold with Tailoring in TBC

Tailoring is not only useful for crafting personal gear but also offers extensive gold-making opportunities. Many players seek crafted bags, spellthreads, and high-demand cloth items, providing tailors with a steady income stream. Successful tailors understand market trends and adjust their crafting focus accordingly.

Profitable Tailoring Products

The following items are consistently profitable in the TBC economy:

- Bags: Netherweave Bags and larger bags sell well on most servers.
- Spellthreads: High-demand for raiders and PvP competitors.
- Runecloth and Netherweave Bolts: Sold to other crafters or players needing materials.
